

An aerial night photograph of Trondheim, Norway. The central focus is the Trondheim Spektrum arena, a large building with a distinctive curved wooden facade and a dark, arched roof. It is surrounded by lush green trees. In the background, the city of Trondheim is visible, including a prominent church with a tall, illuminated spire. The city is situated along a waterfront, with numerous sailboats docked in the harbor. In the distance, across the water, a small island with a lighthouse is visible. The sky is a deep twilight blue.

Conference- and meeting rooms in Trondheim Spektrum

---

Course and conference center

---

4 meeting rooms á 14 m<sup>2</sup>

6 – 10 persons

K-309, K-310, K-311 and K-312

Course and conference center

---

4 meeting rooms á 31 m<sup>2</sup>

12 – 18 persons

K-313, K-314 and K-315

Course and conference center

---

1 meeting room - 61 m<sup>2</sup>

20 – 30 persons

K-316

Course and conference center

1 meeting room - 112 m<sup>2</sup>

50 – 120 persons

K-340

Course and conference center

1 hall – 400 m<sup>2</sup>

100 – 300 persons

The conference hall

Meeting room Hall A

2 meeting rooms á 25 m<sup>2</sup>

8 – 14 persons

Ila 30 and Byåsen 30

Meeting room Hall A

2 meeting rooms á 70 m<sup>2</sup>

20 – 40 persons

Ila 70 and Byåsen 70

Meeting room Hall A

1 meeting room - 65 m<sup>2</sup>

20 – 30 persons

Backstage

Stokke hall

---

3 meeting rooms - 95 – 185 m<sup>2</sup>

40 – 160 persons

Stokke hall A, B and C